To Whom this May Concern:

I would be honored to be a part of the Hammond Historic District Commission. My ties to Hammond began in 2000 when I began Southeastern Louisiana University where I acquired a Marketing degree and MBA. Since my time in college, I have built a thriving real estate career with most of my business being focused in Tangipahoa Parish.

Last year, I completed comprehensive restoration of the long-abandoned Cate House in downtown Hammond; which I now call home. While I have always had an interest in real estate, this project gave me a direct insight into the historical significance and charm this town offers. I believe that my business mind that supports growth is balanced with the understanding of the importance of historic preservation and the long-term benefits it provides for our community.

My next project will be at 221 West Thomas Street. I look forward to improving this property and filling its vacancy. My personal investments in downtown are a testament to my passion for what our community has to offer. If given the opportunity to serve, I will approach my role with the same passion I have in my real estate business. I have been excited to have seen the positive changes that have happened over the years and would love to see that continue.

Kindest regards,
